Partnership/Investor Engagement

Pacesetter Mineral Development Company (PMDC) is big on investor and partnership engagements which are very important to building business relationships with key stakeholders in the mining industry across the globe. Hence, the several models the company leverages to achieve her short, mid and long term goals.

Joint Venture/ Partnership Model

PMDC forms Special Purpose Vehicles (SPVs) in key mining sectors to diversify resources and foster joint ventures in areas like exploration, lapidary services, and trading centers.

Concession Model

Through a public-private partnership, PMDC grants infrastructure and license rights to private or semi-public entities for a set fee or revenue percentage, enabling them to conduct mining operations in the state.

Revenue/Profit Sharing Model

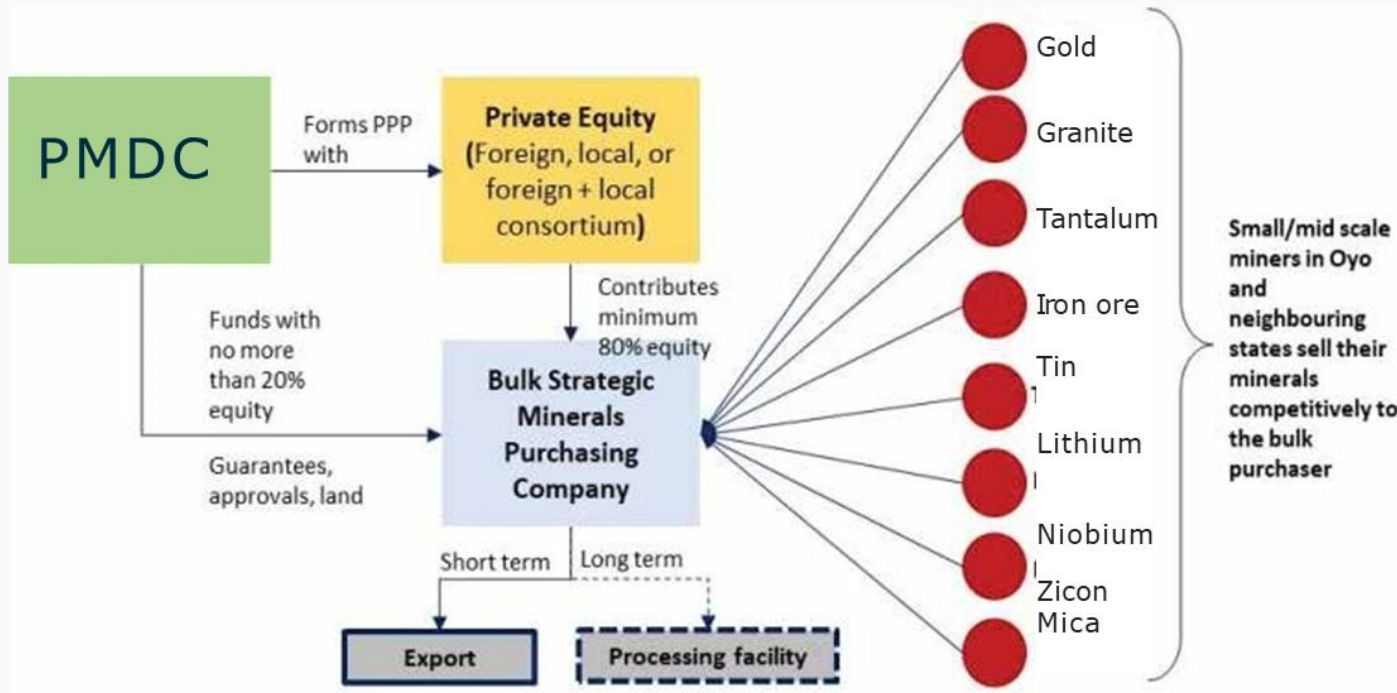

This model encourages shareholders to invest in PMDC's success, aligning profit distribution with shareholder contributions.

Other Customized Model

PMDC offers flexible, tailored engagement models to adapt to global mining industry dynamics and regulatory requirements for successful partnerships.

The Proposal

Pacesetter Mineral Development Company (PMDC) in partnership with investors, business organizations and governments across the globe proposes to support the Oyo State Government in harnessing these strategic minerals, including gold, through Government-backed minerals bulk-buying, exploration and exploitation projects.

The Opportunity

Oyo State's mineral endowment provides a powerful opportunity to tap into this growth. In particular, six minerals have been set aside as strategic minerals for prospecting by PMDC that are useful for this global shift towards more sustainable energy and transportation have potential in Oyo.

They can contribute to rapidly transforming Oyo State's economy by significantly increasing its share of Nigeria's GDP, boosting capital importation, raising the level of industrial activity, increasing internally generated revenue (IGR) to the State, and creating jobs by partnering with Foreign and Local investors through a joint venture with the Pacesetter Mining Company to explore Solid Mineral deposits in commercially viable quantities.

PMDC is open to establishing Public Private Partnership (PPP) arrangements with mineral exploration and mining companies across the globe. The company also offers guidance to potential investors towards obtaining mining licenses and permit.
